Planning Prompts

This time of year, particularly having to deal with the implications of the SEN allocation and staffing schedule, has been extremely busy and continues to be so. The new school term will bring many out of school activities also. Without wanting to add to your workload at the present time, you might consider that health and safety provisions for these activities are formulated and clearly communicated to all staff.

Ciall Ceannaithe – Online Summer Course

IPPN's online summer course will run for the month of July. The course is designed to provide a greater understanding of the innovative solutions to the challenges facing principals. It is a highly practical step-by-step course built on the collective wisdom and experience of seasoned principals. The course is designed for those considering the role of principal, newly appointed principals and principals currently in the role. This course is an EPV approved summer course and qualifies for 3 EPV days.

IPPN Deputy Principals' Conference – Materials Available

On 23rd and 24th March, IPPN hosted the annual Deputy Principals' Conference in Citywest. More than 320 attendees availed of opportunities to participate in a wide range of seminars, network in Special Interest Groups and informally between sessions, and hear from Declan Coyle and Joe O'Connell in plenary sessions. Most of the presentation materials are now available on www.ippn.ie. Evaluation feedback is exceptionally strong, particularly in relation to the move from May to March, the quality of the Expo and the range of seminars available.
